

Smith, Brenckman Flail Supreme Court Measure At Senate Hearing Today

Law School Dean and Grange Representative Voice Strong Objections; Smith Concedes Court Presumed Limitations.

PROPOSES BILL

Brenckman Sees Attempt at Intimidation and Coercion, Redistribution of Power in U. S.

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Dean Young B. Smith of Columbia University Law School asserted today the Roosevelt court bill would "threaten the independence of the Supreme Court and might permanently impair the confidence of the people in that court."

Smith was the first law school dean to appear before the Senate judiciary committee in opposition to the measure.

In his testimony, he conceded that the court in recent years had read into the Constitution limitations upon the powers of government not required by its language. He contended, however, that under President Roosevelt's interpretation "fundamental changes" could be made in the power of the federal government without a constitutional amendment.

The Columbia dean proposed as a substitute for the bill a constitutional amendment providing for compulsory retirement of judges at 70 or 75 years of age.

Such an amendment, he said, "can be drafted with ease, can be stated in simple language, and can be acted upon promptly."

Before Smith testified, Fred Brenckman, Washington representative of the National Grange, told the committee the Roosevelt bill constituted an attempt "to intimidate and coerce the Supreme Court."

"Aside from the objections to packing the Supreme Court in order to influence its decisions, against which millions of patriotic citizens are rising in revolt," he said, "it is clear that the real issue is one which involves a redistribution of power as between the federal government and the states."

Brenckman, called as the day's first witness before the Senate judiciary committee, said in a prepared statement:

"Let a proposal to amend the constitution be submitted to the states. Let the people read and study it, so that they may know what it all means."

Pert of Accusation

"If this measure should be enacted, those who give it their support will be placed in imminent peril of standing accused at the bar of history with having supplanted acquiescence in a step resulting in the overthrow of our constitutional form of government."

Brenckman agreed with the position of Louis J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, who testified yesterday. The suggested enlargement of the Supreme Court, Tabor insisted, during questioning, might set a precedent which eventually could endanger rights guaranteed by the constitution.

Senator McGill (D-Kas.), who has not committed himself on the bill, asked:

"Suppose this present court should resign. Is it your view that the President would appoint and the Senate confirm a court which would sustain as constitutional legislation depriving the people of religious liberties?"

"Unthinkable," he says. "That's unthinkable," Tabor replied in a voice that rang through the crowded chamber.

He added, however, that "the precedent established could be used in the future by a reactionary President or a Congress moved by passion and prejudice to do something evil."

Brenckman's statement commended the Supreme Court for its invalidation of the National Recovery Act. He said the Blue Eagle had thwarted the purpose of the Agriculture Adjustment Act to give farmers "price parity."

The pending bill, he said, should be divided to separate the Supreme Court question from that of expediting justice in the lower courts. He supported the latter objective.

No Right to Change

"But in fairness," he said, "the Supreme Court has no right to change the constitution through its own unbridled interpretation."

Declaring the constitution had been adequate for every emergency, Brenckman called that document the only bulwark "between us and that dread doctrine of tyranny and dictatorship that man is the creature of the state."

Dr. Theodore Graebner, professor of theology at Concordia College, St. Louis, testified last Saturday that while the Roosevelt bill had no religious implication, it could have a religious implication affecting religion.

Large Equalizing Reservoir Will Be Built; Bids Opened

The Board of Water Commissioners met Wednesday afternoon at the city hall and opened sealed bids for the construction of a large standpipe or tank with a capacity of a million gallons. The contract was awarded to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works of New York City whose bid of $15,975 was the lowest bid of the three bids received.

The contract calls for the erection of a steel standpipe or tank 65 feet in diameter and 25 feet high with a capacity of a million gallons. The foundation on which the tank is to rest is to be furnished by the city. It is understood that it is planned to erect the tank, which is really an equalizing reservoir, in the vicinity of Marius street on land to be purchased by the water board.

The purpose of the standpipe or tank is to maintain water pressure and supply on the high points in the city. It is expected that when the standpipe is completed and in operation that water pressure which is low at times on the high points in the city will be maintained so that residents living in these sections of the city will have water pressure equal to that in other parts of the city.

HAS IMPORTANT MESSAGE FOR ELIZABETH CHRISTLER.

Elizabeth Christler, formerly of Belknap, is being sought by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, who has an important message to deliver to her.

Chief Wood has been requested by letter to help locate the girl, who is said to have come to Kingston in 1925, and is believed to be residing with German friends in the vicinity of the letter to Chief Wood was written by Mrs. Frederick Rauch, a resident of Antwerp, Belgium. She stated in the communication that it is important that she contact Miss Christler.

"I hope that if Miss Christler is in Kingston or vicinity, she'll get in touch with the police department," the chief said.

The young lady is five feet tall, has dark brown hair and is 21 years old.

Winter's Worst Storm

Chicago, March 25 (AP)—Applied communication lines, isolated communities and paralyzed highway transportation provided a grim picture of the winter's worst snowstorm in sections of the middle west. While white whirled snow into big drifts in Minnesota and the Dakotas, rain, sleet, hail, down, tornadoes and freezing temperatures placed a wide expanse of the midcontinent.

$45,000 Awarded Quick For Injuries Suffered in Sub-Station Flash-over

Good Friday Proclamation

Herbert M. Quick of Marlborough was awarded $45,000 by an Ulster county jury late Wednesday evening in his $100,000 action against the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation for injuries which his 13-year-old son suffered on February 15, 1935, as he was near the Pegg's Point sub-station of the corporation which is located on the Rosoff property near the river. The verdict is the largest which has been awarded in Ulster county so far as memory can recall.

Several years ago the late John W. Ebert won a $25,000 verdict for a client who was injured in an automobile accident on the Ashokan boulevard, the nearest approach to the sum awarded yesterday.

Summations were commenced at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning with Mr. Rockwood, trial counsel for the defense, presenting his arguments first. Shortly before 11 o'clock Andrew J. Cook, who appeared as trial counsel with George Husk of Rusk & Rusk of Marlborough, began his summation. Both of the summaries were masterpieces and the court room was crowded with spectators who had come to listen to the summations of the important case.

Following the noon recess Justice Harry E. Schrick charged the jury as to the law and reviewed the testimony which had been given in the case which was started a week ago Monday. It was after 3:30 when the matter was finally given over to the jury for final determination.

At 3:30 the jury agreed and announced it was ready to report. The report was made to the court, $45,000 for plaintiff Herbert M. Quick.

Mr. Rockwood moved to set aside the verdict on the usual grounds and also on the grounds that it was excessive, contrary to the facts and the law and on the exceptions taken during the trial. Justice Schrick denied the motion. The defense has 30 days to appeal and additional time to prepare an appeal if an appeal is taken in the 30-day period.

Much Expert Testimony The case was an exceptionally well tried case, much expert testimony was given and the fact that the trial involved highly technical matters which the laymen find difficult to understand counsel for plaintiff and defense as well found the matter most unusual to present to a jury in an understandable way. However, counsel for plaintiff and for the defense alike produced testimony of very technical matters in an understandable way so laymen and jurors alike were able to understand the testimony.

Herbert M. Quick, on February 15, 1935, was 11 years old. That day he and his brother had gone to a swamp near the river to set traps. On their way home Herbert was burned very severely about the face, chest and legs. The contention of plaintiff was that through some defect the substation which carried 12,200 volts, flashed over just as the lad was passing and he was severely injured.

Palisi to Erect Modern Store at 640-642 Broadway

The old frame building owned by Joseph Palisi at 640-642 Broadway is being razed by the Middletown Wreckage and Salvage Company in preparation for the erection of a modern one that will house three stores.

Mr. Palisi, who has operated a fruit and grocery store at 635 Broadway for many years, said he intends to have one of the finest store sites along Broadway when the new place is finished.

Architect Albert E. Milliken of Kingston, who has planned the building, says it will be of modern design, mostly glass in front with chromium mouldings, set in face brick of metal-like hue.

The general contractor will be F. S. Oakley of Stone Ridge; Wiesher and Walter, plumbing; Joseph McNelly, electrical work. The Kingston Glass Company will furnish the window fronts.

Architect Milliken estimates that the building will be completed by July.

LaGuardia Sets Off Lackawack Blast

Work Begins Officially on Delaware Waterway Project to Supply More Water for New York City through 85-mile Aqueduct.

Colorful ceremonies Wednesday afternoon in the town of Gardiner, N. Y., marked the beginning of the work on the $172,000,000 Delaware waterway project to furnish the metropolis with an additional water supply.

The project, after the first several other important New York projects, is expected to be completed in 1940. It is expected that the water supply will be increased by 100 million gallons a day, and that the city will be able to meet the needs of the future.

The project is being supervised by the New York State Department of Public Works, and is being carried out by the Delaware Waterway Authority.

Washington—Former Presidents and Presidential candidates, congressional "giants" of the frock-coat days, mighty monarchs of business, inventive geniuses and fading and blooming heroes of the sports world all paraded into the spotlight as America went to war 20 years ago.

Pledging his services to President Wilson in any useful capacity was warbling William Jennings Bryan then past the peak of his political prestige but still the Great Commoner of silver-tongued magnetism to millions of admirers.

Demanding White House permission to raise a combat division of his own for service in France before the conscript army could be made ready was Rough-Riding Teddy Roosevelt.

Sheriff Alfred E. Smith was coming up fast in New York state politics but the happy warrior with the brown derby was as yet unknown to the nation at large. A TRUE LABOR

By L. L. STEVENSON

Age Must Be Served: Two rather elderly Brooklyn women started out to see the bright lights the other evening. Their destination was one of those huge Broadway establishments with a big girl show. On their arrival, they were politely but firmly informed that the fair sex could not be admitted without escorts and gray hairs made no difference. Age, it seems, brings determination since, instead of giving up with that rebuff, the two women went to a nearby telephone, called the establishment and got the manager on the telephone. To him, the spokeswoman stated that they had come to New York from Evansville, Ind., to see the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State building, the Art Museum and his restaurant. To their sorrow, they had been informed that just because they didn't have any men along, they couldn't be admitted. With that, the manager declared things would be fixed up to their entire satisfaction—just ask for him at the door. The plotters did—and received a ring-side seat with special attention throughout the evening.

Literary Tabu: Mary Alice, my favorite research worker, reports that the woman who desires to comb her hair in the New York public library is out of luck. Not only are there signs informing patrons of this fact but to emphasize it, all mirrors have been removed. Then too there are sharp-eyed attendants constantly on guard to see that some member of the dear sex doesn't bootleg a coiffure adjustment. Furthermore, even to reach for a hairpin brings a penetrating look. Application of rouge is not forbidden but unless personal looking-glasses are toiled it can't be done. On the other hand, Mary Alice paid the newspaper room attendant the compliment of saying that they are the most courteous, helpful and efficient workers she has ever encountered, and her experience includes not only domestic but foreign libraries as well.

City Scene: In a Lexington avenue doughnut and coffee shop, a slight swarthy chap discards a racing sheet when a bulky policeman enters, pays his check and departs hurriedly. The cop picks up the sheet, orders his java, loosens his collar and marks his own selections for the day.

First Aid: A forty-fifth street hotel bar has established a service that appeals to showgoers with parched pipes. Before entering the theater, he, or she, stops at the bar and orders the particular cocktail or other drink desired for consumption during intermission. The bartenders have an exact schedule of all nearby theater intermissions so they go to work mixing 'em in time to have the drinks on the bar when patrons return. Also each patron is given warning when the curtain is about to rise.

Coronation Commerce: It seems that almost every visiting Britisher brings with him or her a list of flats and houses that may be rented for coronation week. The cost runs from $200 on up, and includes a staff of servants. Those who execute leases must provide food, however. Attempts to obtain information as to whether the rental included keys to the wine cellar met with no success. It was learned, however, that on the day of the parade, front-row grandstand seats may be obtained for a mere $250, with food and bottles extra. Backrow seats sell for $95 each.

Going Modern: The old-fashioned oil lanterns that have decorated sanitation department trucks for years and are out. That is, they are no longer a part of garbage truck equipment, the illumination now being electric. Why garbage trucks should have carried lanterns dates back to 1931 when a Tammany administration purchased $3,200,000 worth of equipment. The lighting systems refused to work and changes were made. Those producing no better results, the lanterns were brought into use and served for six years.

Ellenville Firm Files New Rates For Electric Service

Albany, March 25.—The Ellenville Electric Co. has filed reduced electric rates with the Public Service Commission which are estimated to save consumers more than $2,540 a year. The Commission permitted the lower rates to become effective April 1 in the company's territory which includes the village of Ellenville, the Nanauoch lighting district and portions of the Town of Wawarsing in Ulster county.

About 96 per cent of the customers will be benefited by the new rates and no consumer will be increased. Of the total $2,540 saving about $1,170 will be saved by residential consumers. The company territory is divided into two districts with different rates applicable in the different districts as at present.

The new residential rate in district one which includes the village of Ellenville, the Nanauoch lighting district and that part of the town of Wawarsing between Ellenville village and Shawangunk golf course is a minimum charge of $1 per month for the first 10 kilowatt hours or less, seven cents per kilowatt hour for the next 15 kilowatt hours, three and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the next 125 kilowatt hours and two cents per kilowatt hour for the excess use, except when a water heater is used when consumption over 200 kilowatt hours is charged for at the rate of one and one-half cents per kilowatt hour. In the District Two which includes part of the Town of Wawarsing the new residence rate is $1.50 per month minimum charge for the first 10 kilowatt hours or less, seven cents per kilowatt hour for the next 20 kilowatt hours, three and one-half cents per kilowatt hour for the next 120 kilowatt hours and two cents per kilowatt hour for excess use except when a water heater is used when consumption over 200 kilowatt hours is one and one-half cents per kilowatt hour. The new non-seasonal general rate for District One is a lower energy charge in the second block from seven and one-half to seven cents per kilowatt hour which will result in reductions from one cent at 11 kilowatt hours to 32½ cents for uses in excess of 74 kilowatt hours per month and the new general service rate in district two contains a reduction in the length of the first block from 150 to 120 kilowatt hours but the charge for this block remains at 12 cents per kilowatt hour. On an equivalent monthly basis reductions range from four cents on bill for 11 kilowatt hours to 10 cents for 12½ kilowatt hours or more per month. The minimum charges of this rate remain at $12 per year for District One and $18 per year for District Two.

Roosevelt Hopeful

Warm Springs, Ga., March 25 (AP).—President Roosevelt was described by White House officials today as hopeful that the rule of reason would be followed in existing labor troubles. They said the Chief Executive conveyed this thought late last night by telephone to Governor Frank Murphy in congratulating the Michigan executive on the agreement to evacuate sit-downers from eight Detroit Chrysler plants to facilitate further conferences between labor and management.

A 3½-ton farm motor truck driven 5,000 miles costs about 7 cents a mile for fuel and oil, depreciation, repairs, license and interest on investment, a survey by the bureau of agricultural economics shows.

Town's Feline "400" Dines in Splendor

Harwich, Mass.—This town's feline "400" attended a banquet in celebration of the fifteenth birthday anniversary of Fluff, an Angora that for more than a decade has been a silent partner in the shoe business of John F. Condon.

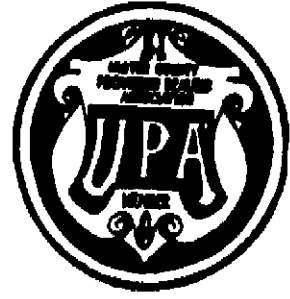

The menu consisted of quahog chowder, crabmeat salad, stuffed anchovies, sardines, salmon and catnip, all served in Condon's store basement. Fluff walks to work with her master every weekday and on Sundays accompanies Mr. and Mrs. Condon to church.

British Back French In Agreeing Upon Warship Blockade

London, March 23 (AP)—Great Britain backed up French action by France today to halt any further landing of Italian soldiers in Spain, according to a dispatch from the British embassy in Paris.

An accord by the two powers, through Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of France and the British Ambassador to Paris, Sir George Russell Clerk, was reached today.

They agreed, with full knowledge of other European powers within the non-intervention committee, on "all points" of a program to make non-intervention completely effective and decided it was imperative to prevent, even by force, any further Italian landings.

British sources pointed out that the agreement was interpreted to mean that Britain was ready to discuss stringent measures presently but had made no decision actually to dispatch warships against any Italian incursions.

Delbos was reported to have proposed that France and Britain immediately study measures to be taken in event French troops left Italy to aid the insurgent Spanish generalissimo, Francisco Franco.

Such measures, it was pointed out, might consist of instructions to warships to halt troop transports instead of merely reporting their presence to the London non-intervention committee, a plan already adopted by the neutrality body. (The neutrality committee scheme to halt volunteer aid to either side of the civil war was built with a view to having affected countries prosecute neutrality violations themselves after reports by naval patrols.)

The Franco-British accord hinged, however, on "all" French troops sail from Italy. Hope was expressed that any drastic action would be unnecessary.

London sources stressed that Britain was anxious primarily to keep the Spanish question within the non-intervention committee. It was feared, might endanger what successes the neutrality body had gained in the long months of its wrangling.

Italian officials in Rome kept silence on the entire matter, pointing out they were resting on their own proposal to ban volunteers, made long ago. Some sources declared any new unilateral action designed to achieve the same end.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE SHAKES LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, March 23 (AP)—A heavy earthquake shook Los Angeles at 8:45 a. m. today.

It was a double shock, felt strongly through a large area in southern California, but no damage was reported.

Buildings shook in downtown Los Angeles, Glendale, Santa Monica and Anaheim reported the strong tremor immediately, but observers said it was not enough to cause damage in those areas.

20 Roller-Skaters Burn In Bus Crash

Two miles west of the city. The bus was going down grade when its right front tire blew out. The heavy machine was hurled on its side across the highway and burst into flames when the gasoline tank exploded.

Flames leaped 40 feet in the air, turning the bus into a funeral pyre. "Survivors said the bus appeared to explode and then there was fire all over and all were caught in it," stated Dr. H. L. Logan, of the Salem Hospital staff.

State's Attorney Ward Holt said today he had "conducted a partial investigation" of the accident "which clearly indicated its cause to be the blowout of the right front tire." He said there was little to be gained by examination of the wreckage—a small ugly pile of bent metal.

Coroner S. B. Carrigan of Marion county said an inquest will not be held for several days. "We hope by that time some of the injured may be able to testify," he added.

Rolling on Ground

"When we arrived at the scene," Frakes said, "the driver of the bus was rolling on the ground pleading for help."

Flames were terrific. "We were only able to take out bodies with pike poles under protection of water. Several of the bodies were still in a sitting position."

Don Flannery of Kansas City wept today as he described the plight of his helpless companions.

He crawled through one of the windows but was seriously burned in a heroic attempt to rescue Miss Ruth Hill, his fiancée.

"She called to me twice," he sobbed. "I finally found her. I tried to pull her out, but she was pinned and I couldn't move her."

A "deadly quiet except for the crackling of flames" greeted John Frankbner, first to arrive at the scene of the disaster. Frankbner said he heard the explosions at his home 200 yards away.

"I found one man dead, lying just off the edge of the highway," he said. "Ten feet away I found the body of a child. Both of its arms and legs were burned off."

Pedestrians Walk In Slippery Places

The hailstorm of this morning covered the sidewalks with a coating of ice that made walking difficult. The storm also caused auto drivers to proceed with care. While the storm caused no damage to the lines of the New York Telephone Company or the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation the storm caused an interruption of service on the police radio broadcasting system shortly after 5 o'clock this morning when the hail clung to the radio antennae, and it was impossible to broadcast over the system until the frozen hail was thawed from the wires. This was the first time since the installation of the police radio system that broadcasting has been halted by reason of a storm. Steps are now being taken to eliminate all such difficulty in the future.

GRECO FINED $10 FOR LABOR LAW VIOLATION

The adjourned case of the State Labor Department against Pietro Greco, proprietor of the Colonial Bowling Alley, North Front street, charged with violation of the Labor Law, was tried before Judge Culliton this morning. Greco was found guilty and was fined $10, which was paid. The State Department was represented by Harvey L. Strelzin, assistant attorney general.

Claims Group Met Monday to Fix Dates for Hearings

A meeting of the members of Delaware Section No. 5, Commission appointed to hear claims arising out of the taking of lands for shaft construction in Ulster county for the new City of New York Water Works development was held this week.

Spier Whitaker is chairman and the other members of the commission are Arthur Rice and William Chandler. The commission was appointed by Justice Gilbert V. Schenck last fall and is known as Delaware Section No. 5, Northern Department of Ulster County.

The meeting was held at the hearing rooms in the Burgevin Building on Fair street at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to fix the schedule of dates for holding hearing on claims.

At the meeting but one attorney appeared, Philip Slutsky, who represented Dora Weiner, owner of Parcel No. 1140 on Shaft 2-A. The first date set was for April 13 and 14 when the commission will hold hearings on the claim and take testimony at the office.

Other hearing dates were set down and attorneys notified of such dates as follows:

April 19, 20 and 21 was set down for hearings on the Yama Uchi Land Company claim for parcels No. 1109 and 1110 and 1111. On those dates will also be heard the Evelyn Meagher claim on parcel No. 1114 at Shaft 2. H. Westlake Coons, who appears for the Yama Uchi Land Corporation, has assented willingness to go on with the claim of the company on those dates.

April 26, 27 and 28, set aside of hearings on parcels No. 1153, 1154, owned by Henry Mead, Jr., at Shaft No. 3, and James Dayton claim for parcel No. 1205 at Shaft No. 5.

May 3, and 5, the commission has designated as hearing dates for Shaft No. 4, where parcel No. 1172, owned by George Canoneri and parcel No. 1173, owned by Ignaz Baranski is located.

On May 10 and 11, hearings have been set down for Parcel No. 1230, owned by Giuseppe Infantone, at Shaft No. 5-A. This is the last shaft in Ulster county and is near the Orange county line.

While the above dates have been set down as tentative hearing dates they may be changed to accommodate counsel in the cases.

Assaults Court Plan

Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, told a Senate Committee that President Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the Supreme Court is a long step toward "authoritarian government without popular or judicial restraint."

Herberg M. Quick Awarded $45,000

burned by the current. At the time he claimed to have been walking along a path a few feet from the sub-station. As a result of the burns he is permanently scarred, is losing sight and physicians testified during the trial that he will have certain contractions of the muscles which will increase with age.

In defense the corporation contended that the lad climbed the enclosure fence and shorted the system with a piece of wire and thereby caused the damage himself. The corporation defended the action on the theory that the station was of modern construction, well protected and the current grounded in the approved manner and that it would have been impossible for the accident to happen as the plaintiff claimed.

A great amount of testimony offered was expert testimony given by engineers as to the theory which each side claimed. The plaintiff produced engineers who claimed the accident could have happened as the lad was walking along the path that damp wet day and the defense on the other hand produced experts who testified that a person could not be injured in the way plaintiff claimed.

Further the defense engineers testified that a person would not have been seriously injured even though he was in direct contact with the fence when a 15,200-volt charge was grounded through the structure.

Doctors Tell Injuries

Medical experts testified the boy was suffering from catarracts on both eyes, an injury which is well known to follow a severe electrical burn. These catarracts may be removed restoring sight by an operation it was testified.

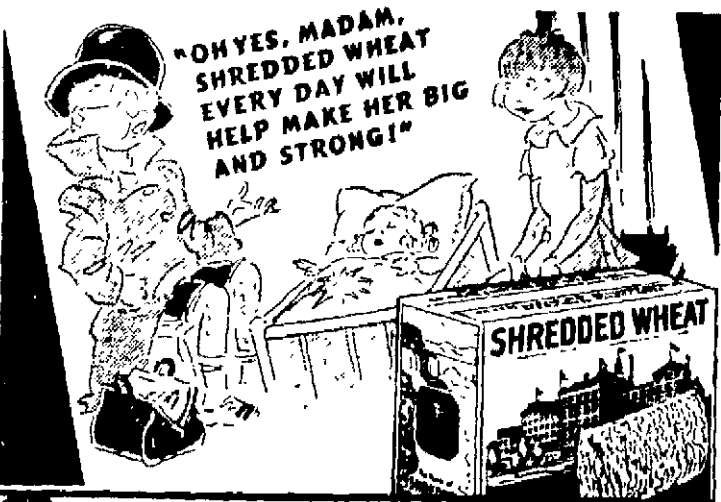

Folger & Rockwood of Poughkeepsie appeared for the defense. George Rusk of Rusk and Rusk with drew J. Cook appeared for the plaintiff.

The largest verdict, which been previously awarded in the county by a jury, so far as money goes, was in the negligence action in 1929 before Justice Ellis Staley when Florence S. Connor, Brooklyn, as executrix of her husband's estate, sued Ralph M. Thompson of Pine Hill and New York for $100,000 for death of Harry Connor. The late John W. Eckert, attorney for New York counsel and Mr. Carter, with A. J. Cook of counsel, appeared for the defense. T. Woolsey, Campbell, Hickox and Hing for plaintiff and Earl S. Jones for defendant.

Mr. Connor was manager of a Funes freight line of steamboats and earned a salary of $15,000 a year. He was killed on June 24, 1928 when a Studebaker car in which he was riding with the Thompsons, who were friends, overturned at the junction of the Ashokan highway and the road leading to the dividing weir. The car was driven by Jan Thompson, daughter of the defendant. Mr. Connor was thrown out when the car overturned. The accident was an unusual one. The testimony was to the effect that the car skidded across the road, missed gas tanks at the store and also a train ran on down the road and overturned, throwing out occupants, and the bounded over again and back on the wheels and ran back up the road in the direction from which it had come and finally collided with a tree.

In that action the widow of deceased sued for $100,000 and was awarded $25,000. The party spent the week-end at Pine Hill and were returning to the city when the accident happened.

Dr. C. D. Grinnells, veterinarian at the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station, says swine erysipelas, or diamond skin disease is spreading in North Carolina.

of the corporation's board, and others.

Michigan's chief executive, flanked by Lewis and Chrysler, called men into his office to tell them that the C. I. O. chief had agreed to evacuation and that the company promises not to resume operations until the conference has reached a definite conclusion upon the union's demand for recognition as the sole collective bargaining agency of the 67,000 Chrysler workers.

The conference was to reconvene in the governor's office at 10 a. m. (EST), provided the evacuation had been carried out. The corporation's officials have insisted upon this before proceeding with negotiations with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers.

Massed Horse Races
Up to 150 years ago most race tracks around the world permitted all spectators on horses to enter the course and to ride, during the races, directly behind the thoroughbreds. Consequently, says Collier's Weekly, few of these horses ever had their minds on the race. Their only thought was to save their lives—from the thundering and howling mob at their heels.

THERE'S A KICK TO THIS SCENE IN LABOR FEUD

As police scuffle with clawing women pickets in an effort to clear the entrance to a Kansas City, Mo., building housing several clothing factories, one picket directs a futile kick at a woman worker entering the building. This scene occurred as the International Garment Workers' union pushed its efforts to organize employees of the clothing factories. Face-scratching and hair-pulling are frequent occurrences between the pickets and the workers.

A new experiment has been tried in all typing classes this year at the high school. A victrola and records were purchased last fall and were prepared for the use to increase the speed of writing and give the typist rhythm as well. The typing classes have been considered foolish for having music while they work. A demonstration of the material was given in chapel last Friday. Three different records were used, each somewhat at a faster speed. The program was very much enjoyed by students and faculty and some of the misleading interpretations may have been cleared.

There was a NOSU League baseball meeting at the high school on Monday, March 22.

13 Men Injured

New York, March 25 (AP)—Thirteen men were injured today, two seriously, when a scaffold on which they were working in the Bronx broke, throwing them 15 feet in the ground. The accident occurred at a WPA construction job on the site of the old Williams-Bridge reservoir.

Slightly Injured When Cars Collide

Ruth, Winifred and Elnora Knoll were cut by broken glass when the Studebaker sedan in which they were riding, operated by their father, Edwin W. Knoll, 66, of Catskill, was in collision about 7:40 Wednesday night with a Chevrolet sedan operated by Raymond Whittaker of Saugerties. Their injuries, which were not serious, were treated by Dr. Sonking of Saugerties.

Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg and McCullough and Trooper Keefe investigated the accident. They found that the Whittaker car had been stopped opposite the skating rink at Schoentag's to allow Arthur Simmons, Hilary Kniffin and William Langan of Saugerties to alight, when the other car, also being driven south, struck their car in the rear. Knoll told the officers that he was turning to go to the left of the standing car when another car came out of the driveway to Schoentag's, going in the same direction and forced him back to his right, so that he collided with the Whittaker car. There were no arrests.

Application for New Commission In Water Hearings

Application will be made by the City of New York, Board of Water Supply, on Friday, March 26, before Justice Sydney J. Foster at special term in Monticello for the appointment of Commissioners on Appraisal to continue hearings in Esopus Creek, Section No. 1, project. This commission will be asked to succeed Commissioners Samuel E. Aronowitz, Spler Whitaker and Lester E. Terwilliger who were appointed commissioners of appraisal in 1935 to hear claims arising out of the acquiring of rights and easements along the 11 1/2 miles of the Esopus creek from Allaben to Cold Brook where the city of New York is seeking permanent rights on properties along the creek which is used to convey the water from the Shandaken tunnel to the Ashokan reservoir. That commission was also authorized to fix damages under claims of property owners whose property abuts on the Esopus creek and which have been damaged by the increase in flow. Notice of the motion has been served on Attorneys Charles W. Walton, A. J. Cook and H. H. Flemming who represent property owners along the Esopus creek. The motion for the appointment of a new commission to succeed the old one to continue the hearings will be made to Justice Foster at 10 o'clock Friday or as soon thereafter as counsel may be heard. The commission of which Messrs. Aronowitz, Whitaker and Terwilliger were members recently had its life extended temporarily in order that the commission might conclude its work and make its report. The old commission has no authority under this extension to hear any additional claims. Other claims which have not been heard will come before the new commissioners who will be named by Justice Foster Friday. Under the law a commission has a two year life to hear claims but the life of the commission may be extended beyond that time for the purpose of concluding unfinished business and make its report. The new commissioners to be appointed will have the same authority to hear claims, direct and indirect damages, as did the old commission. The life of the old commission expired on March 13, 1937, for all purposes except for the filing of their report. There remains still about 100 parcels in Ulster county along the Upper Esopus creek from Allaben to Cold Brook upon which claims for compensation and damages have not yet been heard and determined. One of the commissioners appointed must by law be a resident of Ulster county. The city seeks to run not to exceed 1,063 cubic feet per second from the Shandaken tunnel to the Ashokan and the commission is appointed to hear claims and fix compensation to property owners for damages, whether direct or indirect, caused by this increased flow of water.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Government and Corporate Bonds Higher Wednesday

Bonds, both government and corporate, were higher yesterday. Stocks gained and commodities were up. Rubber jumped 100 points to high level since 1930. Wheat was up 3 1/2 cents a bushel in Buenos Aires. Metals abroad were higher and export copper price here reached 17.225 cents a pound. S. E. C. Commissioner Douglas recommended a change in the relations between investment bankers and industrial corporations. He would limit security underwritings and terminate devices such as non-voting stock and voting trusts—whereby small groups dominate corporate management; also put a ban on banker control of businesses. Among the net earnings for 1936 reported yesterday were: Union Carbide & Carbon, $36,852,208 in 1936 vs. $27,254,249 in 1935; Sears, Roebuck & Co., $30,660,198 (year ended January 31) vs. $21,519,218; Eastman Kodak Co., $18,906,371 (year ended December 26) vs. $15,912,251; Wheeling Steel $4,101,857 (12 months to January 31). Air Reduction $7,064,533 vs. $5,292,866; International Printing Ink $1,269,214 vs. $1,080,757; Hercules Motors $432,696 vs. $400,438; Doehler & Co. $394,139 vs. $623,818; North American Edison $11,135,679 vs. $8,931,759; Container Corp., $1,286,942 vs. $1,238,073; Pullman, Inc. $6,347,107 vs. $2,728 (net loss); U. S. Smelting $5,465,276 vs. $7,090,972. Container Corp.'s first quarter profit will be substantially ahead of a year ago said President W. P. Paepcke. American Rolling Mill plans a $12,260,000 expansion program said President Charles R. Hook. Nickel Plate Railroad reported February net of $306,873 vs. $108,472 year ago. Reverse Copper & Brass declared $1.75 on seven per cent preferred, $1.25 on 5 1/4 per cent preferred. National Malleable declared 50 cents. Discount Corp. of New York ordered $1,500 U. S. Smelting voted usual $2. Electric output last week was up 18.3 per cent over year ago. February Portland Cement production was 5,837,000 barrels, up 68 per cent. Stock volume Wednesday was 1,430,000 shares vs. 1,590,000 Tuesday. All stock averages, with the exception of utilities, were up.

New York, March 25 (AP).—A handful of industrial stocks moved up in today's market but many issues did little or nothing. Sentiment seemingly was bolstered by the Chrysler labor armistice and evacuation of sit-downers from the corporation's plants. In view of tomorrow's holiday closings, however, traders were inclined to step lightly. Dealings were about as light as yesterday, transfers approximating 1,500,000 shares. Reflecting expanding demand for its products, U. S. Steel led the advance with a gain of about 2 points at the best. Both Chrysler and General Motors, however, lost most of their morning's improvement. On top of the greater part of time were Bethlehem Steel, Vanadium, Gulf States Steel, Briggs Mfg., U. S. Rubber, Sears, Roebuck, National Lead, International Printing Ink, Eastman Kodak, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, General Electric, Du Pont, Great Northern, and N. Y. Central. Moving in a restricted area were Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, Kennecott, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Westinghouse, Boering, Seaboard Oil, International Harvester and Hudson Motors. ### To Complete Plans For Basketball Contest Today

Final arrangements were expected to be completed this evening for the basketball exhibition next Wednesday, sponsored by the mayor's industrial committee, at the municipal auditorium. Members of the committee today said that their agent would have something definite to give to the press after conferring with New York several managers in New York. Whether members of the Colonial team will appear in the lineup representing Kingston, the committee was unable to say. Most of them have left for their homes. Tiny Hearn for Philadelphia where he has a job. Charlie Huston for Egg Harbor, and all the rest for other points. The local lineup and its opposition will be announced tomorrow. BRITISH BOXING BOARD WILL NOT HALT BAER FIGHT London, March 25 (AP).—The British Board of Boxing Control today declined to interfere with Max Baer's bout with Tommy Farr, Welsh-holder of the British heavy-weight championship, to be held April 15. The New York State Athletic Commission had asked British authorities to use their influence to prevent Farr from fighting in England on the grounds that he had run out of a contract to fight Bob Foster for Madison Square Garden. THE JOYERS News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies Shepherds of Bethlehem, 25, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in I. O. O. F. Hall, Broadway and Brower street. If a careful selection of the right kind of trees and shrubs is made, the fall garden can be made just as interesting and colorful as many gardens in the springtime. If all the cars and locomotives owned by the railroads of the United States were crowded together they would make a train nearly 20,000 miles long.

Men Renovating Greenkill Park

C. E. Keyser, caretaker at Greenkill Park, recently acquired by 26 followers of Father Divine, states that work on the extensive improvements which are to be made to the property are already under way and that within a week the park will present a busy scene. Mr. Keyser went to Greenkill Park some 20 years ago, when the late Graham Rose was in charge of the development of the property. He has remained there as caretaker ever since and is given to understand that he will retain his position under the new owners, having general charge and supervision of the changes and improvements that are contemplated. At present the work under way consists in clearing off the brush and raking up leaves and debris in the vicinity of the hotel and other buildings, opening up and thoroughly cleaning the buildings and like work. Fourteen men arrived Wednesday and are now at work and Mr. Keyser says that probably 10 more will be put to work between now and first of next week. It is stated that the hotel and other buildings will be painted inside and out, the color scheme being the same as that followed on other holdings of Father Divine. The hotel and cottages (there are 16 of the latter, each of nine rooms) will be completely refurbished and individual steam-heating plans will be installed in all of the buildings. Work which will be taken up and carried out as soon as possible will include repairing the swimmingpool, which will necessitate the building of a new wall; clearing up and putting into shape the golf course, which has not been used for several years, making repairs to the tennis court of which there are 11 on the property; completely overhauling the water-system and thoroughly checking up on the reservoirs; rebuilding roads leading the entire property into first-class condition. Mr. Keyser says that plans for the development of the 17-acre estate are not yet fully completed, but that great changes are in prospect. Among other things he expects to see a number of new buildings added during the year, adding greatly to the accommodations furnished by the present hotel and cottages.

Action Involving Purchase of Horse In Supreme Court

Turning from a $100,000 negligence action Wednesday the Supreme Court this morning heard a case involving the sum of $175 and the case was of a type which is not frequently heard in Ulster county any more. It was an action involving the purchase of a horse.

Kenneth Z. Vanderlyn, of New Paltz, sought to recover damages from Paul James, of Long Island, for an alleged breach of contract. Mr. Vanderlyn, who is engaged in the horse business, testified that he had entered into an agreement with Mr. James for the purchase of a trick horse last fall and had paid $50 on contract. The horse was never delivered but was shipped to Virginia and Mr. Vanderlyn, whose daughter is a juvenile fancy and trick rider appearing in motion pictures, claimed that he had been damaged to the extent of $125 beside the $50 payment. He sued to recover the sum of $175 or delivery of the horse.

Three witnesses were sworn by plaintiff and there was no defense offered. Peter H. Harp, of New Paltz, appeared for plaintiff.

Mr. Vanderlyn testified he agreed to buy the horse for $125 and paid $50 deposit but never received the horse. He had intended to use the horse for trick and fancy riding at the New York and Boston rodeo and other places for trick riding purposes.

Leonard Murray, former Texan who is now employed at the Walkkill Prison as a guard, was called. He said he had been at Rhinebeck fair last fall and seen the horse and had been the first trick rider to "bulldoze" from the horse. This he explained was the trick of having two riders bring out a steer in a rodeo, one on either side to guide it, and the bulldozer was the man who jumped from his horse and to the neck of the steer to throw it by the horns. The other man he said was the hazer. He had performed this stunt at Rhinebeck and said the horse showed up well and was worth $250 as a stunt horse.

James K. Perkins, also a Texan, now a guard at the Walkkill Prison, said he had been a trick and fancy rider with 101 Ranch and with rodeos for years before taking the prison job. He too placed the value of the horse at $250 as a trick horse. Perkins said he was to have ridden the horse at New York at the rodeo and Murray was to have gone to the Boston show. The horse was not delivered.

The matter was tried before Justice Schirlick and a jury and after a few minutes in the jury room the jury returned a verdict in the sum of $270. Justice Schirlick stated that the total amount which could be recovered under the complaint was $175 and on motion of Attorney Harp the verdict was reduced to $175.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Monday.

Young Mr. Cupid's Darts Are Sharper

Optimism is evidently in the air in Kingston judging from the records of City Clerk E. J. Dempsey, or else young Mr. Cupid's darts are sharper this year than last for the records show that last year the city clerk issued 29 marriage licenses for the first three months in 1936, while this year for the same period 41 licenses to marry have been issued.

That young folks are growing more optimistic is shown by the fact that one young couple who obtained a license this year believe that two can live as cheaply as one for the groom-to-be is earning $5 a week and on that sum plans to support not only himself but his bride.

Passion Play Is Described by Lang At St. James Church

The history of the world-famous Passion Play of Oberammergau, which is presented every decade by the people of the Bavarian village, was discussed last night at St. James M. E. Church by the Rev. Otto W. Lang.

The Rev. Mr. Lang, whose family has acted in the play for many years and who played a child's role himself in 1910, spoke of the development of the play, the manner in which it is presented, and described scenes from the play itself. He mentioned that of the total population of the little mountain village, about 400 of them were of the Lang family, which was divided into four distinct groups.

Play Origination
The Passion Play of Oberammergau originated at the time of the black death plague which swept Europe in the 15th century. A great many of the populace died, and in 1634 those that were still alive, prayed in unison for divine help and swore that they would enact the life of Christ every decade thereafter. This pledge has been faithfully kept. The presentations continue through the summer months, beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 6 o'clock at night with a two-hour intermission for lunch. Rules for the spectators are very strict. Smoking is not allowed, absolute quiet must be maintained, and visitors are requested to remain in their seats during the play. Picture taking is also prohibited.

Two-Part Portrayal
The play has two parts—the Old and the New Testament. The people of Oberammergau think that the New Testament is a fulfillment of the old, and give as an example, the selling of Joseph being fulfilled in the betrayal of Christ by Judas. Thus the scenes shown by colored slides, would be interspersed with Old and New Testament stories.

Character parts are usually held in one family if possible. The Rev. Otto Lang's first cousin, Alois Lang, has portrayed the Christ for 26 years, and another man enacted Judas for a similar period.

The speaker pointed out that the village usually suffers a financial loss in connection with the play because of the expensive properties necessary for the staging.

The colored slides portrayed many scenes of Oberammergau and the actual presentation of the Passion Play. Members of the Lang family, including a picture of the speaker when he was enrolled as a member of the cast, were also shown.

The pictures and the vivid description given by Mr. Lang left a clear conception of the trials of Christ from his triumphal entry with the crowds shouting and strewing palm branches, to his death on the cross amid the howling fears of the mob; and conveyed to the audience a feeling of the drama that has brought all the world to Oberammergau for three centuries.
